Algiers Congress: North-South Mediterranean Dialogue – February 2006

Dear Sir/Madam,

Building both on the activities developed since March 2004 by the Bibliotheca Alexandrina in the framework of its Forum of the Arab Reform as well as on the Malta Process initiated at that time within the Mediterranean Committee of the European Movement International, it has been decided between these two organisations to jointly organise a Congress under the name of “North-South Mediterranean Dialogue“.

Its objective is to define together a vision for the future of our part of this world and to foster cooperation between civil society elements on both banks of the Mediterranean.

Following the suggestion of the Algerian Preparatory Committee, it was decided to hold the Congress in Algiers, in February 2006. It is being organised under the high patronage of the President of the Algerian Republic and President of the 17th Summit of the League of Arab States.

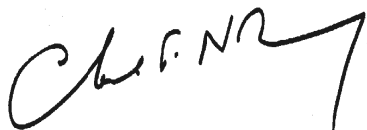

We are honoured to invite you to participate in this project and to contribute to its development by providing comments (before Wednesday 30 November 2005) concerning one or several of the issues contained in our Intermediate Report.

Furthermore, we would be very pleased to welcome a delegate or an observer from your Organisation at the Congress in February.

Please inform us immediately whether you are interested in the Congress and wish to send us any comments. The number of participants in the Congress is limited and those having submitted comments will benefit from preferential registration.

Please, do not hesitate to contact us should you have any further queries.

Yours sincerely,
